Workshop on English Teaching Methodology

Thứ ba, 31 Tháng 10 2017 04:32

In recognition of International Education Week and to celebrate Vietnamese Teacher's Day, American Center is going to hold a workshop Using Online Resources in English Language Teaching on Friday, November 17 from 8:30am to 12:00pm. The event is organized at the American Center, 8th Floor of the Diamond Plaza at 34 Le Duan Blvd, District 1, Ho Chi Minh City. Participants will be selected on a first come first serve basis and space is limited.

With English Language Fellow Sean Hughes as trainer, this workshop will focus on English language teaching in the 21st Century. The presenter will discuss various resources available online, and how and why to use them. This will include some information on the methodology and benefits of using technology-based learning. He will also discuss how to use online resources to: 1) support language learning outside of the classroom, and increase learner autonomy; and 2) help scaffold lessons in the classroom. The presenter will introduce some helpful online sources and have participants locate some online resources to solve a common ELT issue assigned to their group by the presenter.

*Participants should plan to bring laptops for hands-on practice.

AGENDA

8:30 Check-in

9:00 Welcome remarks by Deputy Public Affairs Officer David Turnbull

9:05 Public Affairs Session info session on resources for teachers: English teaching materials, EducationUSA, American Center Programs, Humphrey Program, Study of the U.S. Institutes and Teaching Excellence and Achievement

09:35 Workshop starts

10:25 Tea-break

10:35 Workshop resumes

11:45 Wrap-up. Group photos

12:00 End of workshop

If you plan to attend this private event, please RSVP at https://online-resouces-teaching-workshop-nov17.eventbrite.com or email to achcmc@state.gov with the following information:

Full Name:

Email Address

Cell Phone:

Job Title:

Company/ Organization:
*Please bring your ID for check-in process.